A CHARACTERISTIC LETTER

From the Pen of One Who Knows How to Write Such Epistles.

TULSA, KY., August 20th, 1894.

Bro. Davis: Having been indisposed for some time, my physician prescribed a health resort in the form of a change of scene and a change of climate. In possession of the needed commodity necessary to accept a summer resort, I was compelled to call on my "country cousins" for succor in this hour of affliction.

I left Mayville last Saturday to seek a health inspiring place in the climate of old Fleming. The beautiful rays of the setting sun had disappeared, and in a beautiful twilight, while gentle zephyrs wafted through tall, majestic trees, we alighted at a beautiful mansion, where beautiful flowers lined the broad walk. Indented with sweet fragrance, partaking an Edenic nature, while the plaintive tones of the turtle dove were heard in the distance.

While sitting on a broad piazza drinking in the beauty and grandeur of the home of my childhood the moon arose above the hill beyond, a beautiful valley adding additional luster to the scene.

By the way, Bro. Davis, I find the Ledger goes peering through distance like the glory of the sun—all the world around. And again in my journey I find the "mystic letters three" standing out in bold relief on the magnificent structure opposite the Ledger office to be seen in almost every household.

As I sit beneath the broad boughs of a majestic tree, drinking in the grandeur of Nature, I feel inspired to dwell on the beauties thereof as they are revealed by Nature's God.

A close study of Nature reveals the fact that there is a glory of the day and a glory of the night. The birds sing in plaintive tones sings a solemn requiem at the close of the day. The owl takes no pleasure in the day, but finds his glory in the silence of the night, oftentimes disturbing the quietude of God's grandest creation, that of man.

Nature oftentimes withholds reason, leaving a brain darkened with clouds, casting a shadow over a fearful drama of life, demonstrating the fact that "man was made to mourn."

To be or not to be is the question. "Better 'tis nobler in the mind to suffer the slings and arrows of outrageous fortune, or to take up arms against a sea of trouble and by opposing end them." *

GET TOGETHER!

But they Didn't Do It Until Last Night at the Depot.

Billie Breckinridge can't draw pictures alongside our baseball club, especially when it is on its return home after such a successful tour as the one to Cincinnati was.

Strangers who saw the procession last night from the train to the hotel thought it was a detachment of Coxeyites on their way home from Washington City.

The excitement at the K. G. Depot was caused by the citizens turning out en masse to "welcome Manager Watson's Windbreakers" return home.

On Monday evening when the news flashed over the wires that the "best amateur team in the whole state" had been defeated by the Cincinnatians, Burk Goodman and his crowd actually laughed.

This paper thought the "umple did it," and that on the next day they would send the old one up on a balloon and get a new one, but it seems as though the same old "Gaffney" did the umpiring yesterday, for a score 19 to 5 was what made the people say "Police!"

And this cry called to arms the whole city, who went to the train last evening to meet the boys and tell them how much they thought of their "good playing."

Billie Stockton, the ex Manager, was Chairman of the Reception Committee, and by some tall hustling he rallied about six hundred of the faithful and a drum corps at the depot.

Jimmie Hunt the sifer, when the train whistled, was told to turn to "No. 32 in the old book," and to be ready when the boys got off the train.

The locals had gone down in defeat, but it was, according to the telegrams, so overwhelming it didn't have the right ring, hence the reception.

As soon as the train stopped the players were captured and placed at the head of the procession, the band struck up No. 32 in the old book, "Don't Give Up the Ship." Billie Stockton's commanding voice sang out "Fall in!" and then "March!" and down the street went the drum corps, the team and the fans in order, with Joseph H. Dodson, John Brumel, Russell Warder and William Case all up near the band.

It was rumored that each one carried a banner, but this is not so.

When the procession arrived at the Central they all "got together" around the water cooler, where John Ellet demanded to know the name of the "rotten umpire," and they all took sick.

And then Jimmy Hunt played No. 6 in the new book, "See, the Conquering Hero Comes," when some body announced the arrival of that package of baseball shoes.

Well, boys, they did the best they could. When the umpire said "play ball," the boys didn't know how, that's all.

The All-Professionals of Cincinnati will be here for two games with the locals Friday and Saturday. The All-Professionals is the fastest team in Cincinnati outside the League. The Emma Warren Theater Company's Uniformed Band has tendered its services for the game Friday afternoon, and will convene the occasion by giving an open air concert at the Park before the game.

COL. WASSON

One of the Most Important Americans in Japan.

He is Likely to Make His Mark in the Japan-Chinese War.

He is thought by the Mikado to Command the Army—Col. Wasson Was Proved of Gen. Grant and When at Home is Resident of Salem, Mo.

RIVERSIDE, Cal., Aug. 22.—One of the most important men in the Japanese relation to the present controversy between Japan and China, and who is likely to prove an important factor in a direct way, as he is certain to do in an indirect way, in the war now waging over Korea, is Col. J. R. Wasson, of Sedalia, Mo., formerly a well-known officer in the United States army. The Japanese government has sent for Col. Wasson and charged him to repair at once to the scene of the conflict and there take command of one division of the mikado's forces. He has been asked to do this because of his familiarity with the Japanese and their methods and his known ability as a commander. The government officials know this from Col. Wasson's Thuesdays when he was in the army at one time as a military instructor.

Years ago, during President Grant's term, the mikado, at the request of this government that a young military officer of marked ability be sent to Japan to introduce to the Japanese the American tactics and methods of warfare. It was a desirable and honorable position and President Grant selected Col. Wasson, a classmate at the West Point military academy and a close friend and great favorite. Wasson had previously been sent on a similar mission to Egypt upon the request of the khedive and spent two years in the Nile country constructing the military forces, earning considerable credit for his tact and ability in that line, but it was in his relation with Japan that he achieved his greatest fame. In 1874 he accompanied Gen. S. Salgo as chief of staff, with the rank of colonel in the expedition against Formosa. Col. Wasson conducted the expedition to a successful termination. The success of the enterprise and the satisfactory manner in which it was carried through pleased the mikado so much that he bestowed on Col. Wasson the decoration of the rising sun of the imperial order of the meiji, a distinction no other foreigner ever enjoyed.

A warm personal friend of the colonel residing in this city is the recipient of a letter from Col. Wasson, in which he states the facts as to the offer made by Japan.

MEMPHIS FIRE.

Property Destroyed to the Amount of a Quarter of a Million.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Aug. 22.—Fire started about 1 o'clock Tuesday morning in four-story brick building, corner of Shelby street, occupied by the Mansfield Drug Co., and within less than an hour's time nearly $250,000 worth of property was consumed. The fire started among the chemicals and oils in the rear of the Mansfield building, and spread so rapidly that the firemen soon lost control of it.

A general alarm was turned in, and every engine in the city was brought to the aid of the burning building. It could not be subdued, the flames devouring their work to saving adjoining property, and after an hour's battle succeeded in confining the fire to the block in which it originated.

Among the heaviest losers are the Mansfield Drug Co., Fader & Co., wholesale grocers, and the cotton factors.

A Veto Possible.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 22.—Prof. Wilson caused a good deal of excitement on the floor of the house Tuesday afternoon, since the adjournment, by including in veto talk. He has had conversation with some democratic members and to all he has said he would not be surprised if the tariff bill was vetoed. To a Pennsylvania congressman, representative of a district so far as to express himself as believing that a veto was in store for the house. Prof. Wilson has been a very active member of the day and this mysterious expression of opinion naturally is causing much talk, as it is not known whether he has had any communication with the president or not.

Japanese Cruelty.

LONDON, Aug. 22.—A dispatch to the Times from Shanghai Tuesday says that the court of inquiry has established the fact that the commander of the Japanese warship Nanwa ordered the destruction of the Chinese steamer from the Chinese transport Kow Shing, which was sunk by the Japanese. The dispatch also says that Vice Admiral Hon. E. E. Fremantle, commander of the British China station, is collecting detailed evidence on this subject.

The Big Eastern Strike.

New Bedford, Mass., Aug. 22.—Everything is quiet in the mills Tuesday. Work is wholly suspended. It is generally expected that the yarn mills will resume work in a day or two, but there is a difference of opinion as to whether these concessions will extend to the cloth mills. Many still anticipate a long fight.

MURDER WILL OUT.

A Kansas Mystery Believed to Be Cleared at Last.

CHICAGO, Ind., Aug. 22.—William Leckler was arrested Tuesday morning on the charge of murder in the first degree, and was taken to Howard, Kan., where he will be placed on trial. Leckler, a man of about 35 years, a wealthy merchant, was murdered near Howard. Six months ago a man named Leach, residing in Howard, was arrested, convicted and sentenced to the penitentiary for four years for stealing cattle. He called the jailer to his cell two months ago and told him that if they would release him he would tell them who murdered Joseph Leckler. This they consented to do, and he told them. Leckler committed the crime.

Leckler, at the time of the murder, resided in Howard, but moved to Delaware county, Ind., over year ago, and has since resided in Yorktown, six miles west of Muncie, with his wife, four children and father-in-law, who is R. F. Wells, a well known Baptist minister.

When arrested Tuesday morning, and informed that he was wanted for the murder of Leckler, he said "Who am I? I'll bet it was either that druggist or blacksmith." He accused his own wife, Ex-Sheriff Elmer Richardson, of Howard, who arrived Tuesday night, returned with his police at Archer avenue and the Lake Shore railroad tracks.

CHICAGO RIOT.

Strikers Stage a Gang of Italians Seeking to Kill the Police.

CHICAGO, Aug. 22.—A serious riot between striking laborers, their sympathizers and a gang of Italians who had taken the place of the strikers was narrowly averted Tuesday morning by the quick interference of the police. The riot broke out on the Lake Shore railroad tracks.

At this point the Lake Shore and Rock Island railroads are beginning to work. The Italian laborers assembled for work, a mob of 1,500 men, women and boys gathered in half an hour. They blocked the tracks and drove the laborers from their work, throwing stones, cooping-pins and other missiles at the fleeing foreigners. Detective Mulrany, of the Lake Shore, was knocked down by a stone when he tried to talk the mob. The sight of police made the mob scatter and work was resumed.

Quails May Be Held in Ohio.

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 22.—Quail may be sold in Ohio markets whether it is lawful to kill them or not, under an important decision on the game law rendered by Attorney-General Richards, Tuesday morning. The opinion was given at the request of W. H. Cole, president of the Ohio fish and game commission, and will interest sportsmen in all parts of the state.

The attorney-general said that "the law does not prohibit the sale of quails in the markets of this state, but it does prohibit the sale of quails for the purpose of sale in Ohio markets. The person who kills quails for such purposes is the offender who should be punished."

JAP CRUELTY.

The Kow Shing Affair Goes Very Much Against Them.

The Attack on the Vessel Unprovoked and Unwarranted.

The Commander Ordered His Men to Fire Upon the Chinese Struggling in the Water After the Kow Shing Sank. Large Number Being Killed.

LONDON, Aug. 22.—A dispatch from Shanghai to the Times says that the Japanese government has ordered the Japanese transport Kow Shing off in disproving the Japanese official version of the sinking of that vessel. The statements made by those persons show that the Kow Shing was without an escort, and that the attack made upon her by the Japanese warship was unprovoked and not in any respect connected with a naval engagement.

The fact is now established that the commander of the Nanwa ordered his men to fire upon the Chinese who were struggling in the water after the Kow Shing sank, and there is indisputable evidence that a large number were killed in that way. It is further stated that the French gunboat Lion, the German gunboat Huisman and the British gunboat Porpoise saved 240 of the drowning Chinese, while the Nanwa did not rescue a single one.

All of the foreign representatives regard the treatment of the Chinese soldiers who were on board the Kow Shing as inhuman, and have so reported the affair to their respective governments.

Admiral Fremantle, commander of the British squadron in the Pacific, has detailed evidence concerning the sinking of the Kow Shing, with the object of transmitting it to the admiralty office.

London, Aug. 22.—The Central News agency says that government officials are watching carefully all firms that are fitting out ships and manufacturing arms, and that the many firms that have been warned against working for either Japan or China have denied that they intend to undermine the government's policy.

Those who acknowledged that they were dealing in materials of vessels of the British navy have been warned that the materials and vessels were to be sent to South American countries. In hardly a case has a firm stopped its suspected activity on account of the government warning.

REV. WICKHAM

Says a Few Things to the Strike Commission About Pullman.

CHICAGO, Aug. 22.—Rev. W. L. Wickham, of the Methodist Episcopal church at Pullman, was emphatic in his denunciation of the methods of the Pullman Co. He testified Tuesday: "When business gets slack at Pullman, the company's employees living outside of Pullman are ordered to move into the company's houses on peril of losing their positions. Some of the men have attempted to buy houses on the installment plan, but this is discouraged, as such men are likely to be laid off when the force is cut down. The men are unfairly treated. Some are laid off for no reason. I know that paper to have been laid off when a man was injured in the shops, and unfair means were taken to prevent a suit for damages. I know that a man was laid off and later I saw a sworn statement, purporting to be signed by him, in which he said the accident was entirely unavoidable. I know that paper to have been a forgery, for on the date on which it was made the man was unable to write, and could not have signed his name."

"One of the worst features of the Pullman system of house renting is the immoral and filthy conditions. Many of the workmen are compelled to rent rooms to help out their meager incomes. The houses are so arranged that the three or four men who occupy the family sleeping apartments, and as a result the morality of Pullman is much below that of surrounding towns. There is no way for the workmen to avoid this, as many of them are practically compelled to live in the company's houses."

Several Children Hurt.

WOODSTOCK, Mass., Aug. 22.—While workmen were tearing down an old brick building, at the corner of Ward and Reiland streets, Tuesday, the house collapsed, burying about a dozen children and three men in the ruins. Four of the children were taken out badly injured, and three others with severe cuts and bruises. Workmen are still searching the ruins for bodies.
